

OLD is NEW

Not too long ago New York's East Village was known to only a few: neighborhood Poles and Ukrainians, art students from nearby Cooper Union. Now it is called the New Bohemia. What Greenwich Village (now known as the West Village) used to be, the East Village is—but more so.

Walk down St. Mark's Place, the swinging, other-worldly main street, and you are struck by a number of things. East Village inhabitants are young, many of them students or not too far past it. They express their ideals, causes and rebellions verbally, outwardly, in the way they dress and the way they live. Their long hair, beards, and unusual clothing are not much appreciated by the status-quo-conscious older generation. Nor are some East Village causes such as LSD and New Left politics.

No matter what their beliefs, almost all try to live a creative life. As in every so-called Bohemia, the area abounds with artists, artisans, actors, musicians and film makers who need a free-wheeling atmosphere in which to work.

One of these, Michael Grando, is a pantomimist who, with friends, rented the old Bridge Theater to present their own and others' work. They bought a load of costumes and, after taking what they needed, converted the theater lobby into a store called Headquarters. In no time at all thousands of people were buying doublets, Roman helmets, medieval court costumes and 20s evening dresses. Headquarters' policy is: no paper bags. "You walk out either carrying it or wearing it," says Grando. When the costumes are gone, the theater will re-open.

But other stores will continue to make St. Mark's Place the old-and-wild center of New York. Limbo's four owners sell both new clothes and old capes, gangster suits, grenadier jackets, kilts, you name it. Who wears them? "People from 8 to 80," says owner Fred Billingsley.

Painter Howard Kanovitz and his wife Mary design and make ornately filigreed old-style jewelry for their shop, Queen of Diamonds. Everyone who works there seems to be multi-talented. Ex-teacher Charles Fitzgerald owns two shops. One, Grizzly Furs, sells vintage fur coats and jackets; the other is devoted to wooden bowls and boards of his own design. Matchless, is run by Lohr Wilson and Noel Nynan. Not only do they design their gift matches and jewelry, but Lohr makes films.

It's the new Village and, as usual, the youngsters are first on the bandwagon. But don't be surprised if, in a few months, mother comes home wearing Valentino's old cape.

Modeling Headquarters' costumes, part-owner Michael Grando stands outside his store flanked by West Villager Iva Kaplan and East Village art student Marcia Wenger.

Iva perches on a scooter while wearing a pink sequined evening dress of indeterminate origin and black straw hat of similar ancestry.

Wearing an exotic Grizzly Fur (long and lined with fur), Iva relaxes on shop floor.

Mac Gibboney flags down Iva and Marcia in Matchless.

Linda Schwartz leaves Headquarters with her new felt cape. The knickers are hers.

Brooklyn College student Tobie Cytryn models some of the elegant brass and glass hand-made jewelry of artists Howard and Mary Kanovitz in Queen of Diamonds.

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

GO FOR BROKE AT "SWEET SIXTEEN": At this ripe age grandma was supposed to be "sweet 16 and never been kissed." (Mom?—You'd better ask her.) But today's girls find the occasion a swell excuse for a big birthday jamboree—and, this spring, there'll be more Sweet Sixteen parties than ever. But, don't rush to change your birth date—you can hold 'em any time of the year. Shy birds rig them so they're for all girls... however, they're likely to have a lot more pizzazz with plenty of boys on hand. Sweet Sixteen is an any-kind-of-a-party. You decide what kind. In cold weather use the snow (there are still patches around in ski areas) for a skiing, sled-ding party. In summer a poolside (or beach) party's hip and pop. In spring an outdoors-indoors (since weather's unpredictable) party is smart.

Picnics are fine most any time of the year... free and imaginative. Pitch your party for any hour from breakfast on that suits your style. Dress?—Elect a nymode from dungarees to formal. Games are great... dancing is greater. Food is greatest... so, fuel up your guests. A gastronomic medley of dishes reported dished out at recent news-making Sweet Sixteen frolics includes: hamburgers, franks, pizzas, sandwiches, steak, ice cream and way-out sundaes... and plenty of soft drinks. Food trend can be exotic—Italian, Mexican, Chinese, Polynesian. Your Sweet Sixteen party is good training for dear old dad... for launching you later on in bigger directions. Maybe you can sweet-talk him into running it for you and your friends with all the trimmings... swinging Sweet Sixteen parties are coming in big in restaurants, motels, clubs and hotels... are now big business. During the last year, these report batches of the parties, filling their premises with hundreds of happy howlers... and not all of them 16. Watch it, or those older-agers will think it's such fun they'll crash in. But, never mind—you'll never be sweet 16, again!

MORE NOVEL DOPE ABOUT SOAP: Soap remains as useful as ever for good old washing... But dope just turned over to us by cleanliness experts indicates you're missing bets if you aren't up on these other fancy soap hints: 1) to pick up beads scattered from a string, run a moistened soap bar over the floor—they'll stick to it (works, too, for tiny particles of broken glass, sharp little tacks, etc.); 2) when bottle caps stick—if it's a nonfood container, coat inside threads of cap with slippery soap (ditto screws and saw teeth in carpentry, needles in heavy sewing); 3) gotta make a catchy something slide?—soap underside of drawers, soap window ropes, thread ends (to thread a needle) and zippers; 4) to stop eyeglasses and bathroom mirrors from steaming up, soap them and polish clear; 5) and a novel tip (we guess, for girls only?)—to hold up droopy ankle and knee socks, draw a moistened soap "garter" around your leg... sock should "grip" on it... O.K., finished? Then there's nothing else to do but grab a nice new bar and jump into a hot tub!

TALK ABOUT TEENS EXCELLING IN SPORTS! A minnow of a new girl swimmer who's only got her bare foot on the bottom rung of the teen ladder is now threatening to paralyze natorial competition for the next several Olympics. Marie-Jose Kersaudy has recently scooped up eight international gold medals (four free-style, one backstroke, one butterfly, one free-style relay and one mixed relay)—and she's only just 13. Looks like Mlle. Kersaudy (she's from French New Caledonia in the South Pacific) may be skimming right on the surface of the water by the time she's full-blown 19.

THEIR FUTURE IS IN YOUR HANDS—SAY NEW MUSIC MOGULS: The new tape cartridge industry with its new music machines that play the tune tapes (at home, walking around, anywhere) is aiming this ammunition at you. Expects to sell two-thirds of the cartridge music output to teens (and immediate post-teens)... But you're puzzling them. Frinstance, you're not buying cartridge tapes of a hits till, kerplunk, they fall off the top hot 100 and are off the air. Will you switch from records, transistor radios to these new tape tapes? You've got these music moguls dizzy, waiting to find out!

many older viewers who were amused at the sight of Daniel and Mingo, far from the wilds of Kentucky helping General Washington solve his problems on the banks of the Hudson River.

This sort of thing does become distressing because the program is aimed primarily at the young viewers — and some of them will probably believe that Daniel Boone and his friend, the almost single handedly, saved the young nation during a week when General Washington was being doing too well in the Neil-on a business trip to Connecticut. There have been reports for months about reviving "erson tory have been very successful to Person" after all these seasons.

Romanticized versions of his- tory have been very successful to Person" after all these seasons. Sugar can be obtained from almost every green plant.

Advances word is that the ser- les deals with the general in the way that "Daniel Boone" handles the backwoodsman. If so, it would not be surprising to find that Daniel Boone and his soldiers were actually the victors at Little Big Horn.

LUCKY TO BE OUT OF "IN" GROUP

Dear Helen: I was considered pretty popular at school until some friends found out I go to church. Now I'm out of the "in" crowd.

They call me "square", I'm 13, and too young to choose between religion and fun.—OKIE

Dear Okie: You're "in" crowd sounds as if it were spelled with an "s". Consider yourself lucky to be out of it, and look for the REAL "in" group, not a bunch of phonies.—H.

Dear Helen: My boyfriend and I broke up to date other people. I go with someone else now, and so does he. Recently I met his new girl, and now she calls me every night to pump me about him. She says I owe it to her because I know so many things about him.

Don't say hang up because I've tried and she calls right back. I can't help getting disturbed when someone I hardly knows digs into me for information, then calls him to ask if what I say is true. What can I do about this "olnk"?—D.O.

Dear D: Tell her the one big thing your ex-boyfriend hates is snoopy females, and if she'd keep him hooked, get off the horn!—H.

Dear Helen: My parents split up when I was seven and now both are remarried. My father has been drinking since as long as I can remember. My mother was verging on a mental breakdown from his drinking and chasing and was advised to divorce him.

Mom is very happy now, but Dad still drinks. Recently he developed cirrhosis of the liver. My stepmother called and asked me if there was something I could do, as the doctor said it would kill him in maybe six months. We've tried Alcoholics Anonymous. He didn't stick with it. What can I do?—DAUGHTER OF AN A.A. FAILURE.

Dear Daughter: If your father won't acknowledge he needs help no one can help him. When even a death sentence won't stop his drinking, he may be beyond aid. Try the A. A. route once more, and then —you can only wait and pray.

Membership in Al-Anon Family Group may help his wife face what she can't change.—H.

Dear Helen: Why are people so ignorant as to ask an expectant mother dumb questions? I've been happily wed since June and am expecting our baby in May. Where I work, people look me straight in the big middle and say, "Are you married?"

Are they crude, rude, snoopy, or just plain tactless?—MARRIED

Dear Married: All four, probably. Smile and give 'em the back of your hand—your left one of course.—H.

Dear Helen: Please, please give us again the address of Vietnam Mail Call where we can send letters to soldiers overseas.—LOST IT

Dear L.L. and ALL you other Askers: Please, PLEASE tear the address out of the paper and save it this time! Send your note to a soldier

Inside a plain envelope, and enclose it in another envelope addressed to VIETNAM MAIL CALL, Box 3104-A, Columbus, Georgia, 31903. Also enclose a dime or two five-cent stamps. Your letter will be forwarded to a fighting man. He's almost sure to reply and he'll make a fine correspondent, as many of my readers have told me.

Over 6,000 of you have already answered my plea for Vietnam mail, but many more letters are needed. Keep 'em coming! — H.

BE PARTNERS WITH GOD SUPPORT HIS CHURCH

The IMMORTAL

...and may we sing Hallelujah! For Christ the Lord is risen. The lilies are in bloom and men and angels are in jubilation.

Because He lives, we know we too shall live.

The Greeks were wrong.

Man is not mortal, but rather immortal.

For God hath set eternity in the heart of man.

This Easter, we share the immortality of Jesus Christ. His journey to Golgotha transfigured the cross forever, turning that symbol of suffering into a symbol of triumphant life.

Then let us live like women and men who expect to go on and on forever

... world without end. This is indeed our true Christian hope. This is what Easter means to us today.

You In The Church
The Church Is You form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Ministers of all faiths and the community-minded firms below persuade you to read this Spiritual Values page and make it a part of your life ... it is your heritage.

WHO GOES HERE? That's the question that officials at the Arlington National Cemetery have to answer. It is estimated that Arlington will be out of burial space in about nine months.

Space: An Issue at Arlington

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There is no reason, both sides say, why there should be an issue over burial space for veterans in Arlington National Cemetery.

But both sides—veterans groups and the Department of Defense—know well that even the smallest of matters here can explode into banner headlines.

It is estimated that Arlington will be out of burial space in about nine months. Then, presumably, its gates will close forever as a burial place.

It isn't geographical limitation which bothers groups like the VFW. It is rather the Defense Department's "arbitrary administration" of Arlington and a "reluctance by Congress to look into the matter, which is congressional jurisdiction in the first place."

Recently, the department decreed that Arlington, as long as burial space remained, could receive and bury only Medal of Honor winners, men on active duty (Vietnam), retired veterans and veterans in high government positions (Congress, federal courts, poli-icy-making executives, etc.).

"That's discriminatory and autocratic," says VFW legislative director Frank Stover. "What about the guy who slogged through Europe 50 years ago in mud just as irksome, facing bullets just as lethal?"

"Our argument is that, for whatever space the cemetery has left before it runs out, the family of any average veteran has just as much right to the honor of Arlington as any of those in the four categories Defense now favors."

"The VFW believes," said VFW Commander-in-Chief Leslie M. Fry, "that in death there is no rank."

Pentagon offices which deal with national cemeteries decline comment, other than to say the decision to restrict remaining burials at Arlington to the four categories was made to defer its closing as long as possible.

"The Defense decision violates the intent of Congress," Fry charges. "No office anywhere in the Pentagon has the right by law to decide what groups of veterans should be buried where and for what reasons. Whether Arlington is open for one more month or nine, it should be open to any veteran."

The VFW has gone before the House Committee on Veterans Affairs to argue its case. Fry asked the committee to have the Arlington order rescinded, either that or create other "little Arlington" nearby, such as on unused federal ground around Manassas battlefield in Virginia or near Ft. Meade in Maryland.

There are two reasons why neither the VFW nor the Defense Department wants the squabble to become national. Debate over what to do with a dead soldier makes any intent to honor him look silly, something which anti-Vietnam war legions could dramatize.

Second, debate brings up the broader cemetery-burial picture. It has been proposed that crematories supplant national cemeteries, saving money and space. This is a problem similar in scope to the thorny question of birth control in the population explosion.

"Sure," said the VFW's Stover, "and cremation could make it easier for all veterans of all wars to receive proper and equal final rites, but can the government or the VFW or anyone else tell a family to have a son, husband or father cremated? Some religions and sects do not believe in it."

Request for burial at Arlington increased markedly after the burial of President Kennedy, said John Metzler, the cemetery superintendent who buried him.

"People saw on television the honor of being buried there," Stover said. "It may sound morbid, but the fact remains some families look at the prestige. Or they may simply feel the man who survived Normandy or Iwo Jima deserves as much honor as a man who dies in Vietnam."

A letter from Winnipeg reads in part, "Do you ever open with a bid of four no-trump? If you do, what does the bid mean?"

The answer to this question is that we do use the four no-trump opening bid about once every year or so and when we do we are asking for aces. In other words our opening four no-trump is immediate Blackwood.

Today's hand shows this bid at work. South is a trifle shocked to find that he is expected to play a diamond slam without a diamond in his hand but he recovers from the shock in time to collect for the game, slam and rubber.

It is evident that North and South would have no trouble getting to six diamonds on almost any bidding sequence, but the opening four no-trump is really valuable here.

Suppose, for example, that North opened with a natural forcing two diamond bid or an artificial forcing two club bid.

East is not vulnerable. He can't be expected to get into the bidding at the five level but any East worth his salt would surely get into action at the two level and stick in a two spade overcall.

South would pass and West would bid either three hearts or three spades. This would not stop North from trying Blackwood at his second turn to bid but it also would not stop East and West taking a save at six spades. Six spades would be down three tricks for 500 points but that is a lot less than paying for a successful slam.

Juniors Do Well in Meet at Nashville

By Ralph Routon

Smooth and steady as ever, the Hope Junior High track team proved their strength once again, beating a strong field in winning the Scrapper Relays at Nashville Thursday afternoon.

The senior high tracksters also did well, placing third in the senior division. Some excellent times were turned in by the Hope boys.

Alan Phillips met up with one of the best half-milers in the state in Bobby Pruitt of Beebe. After a very competitive footrace, Pruitt finally came out on top nipping Phillips at the wire. Phillips' time was a good 2:05.1. The Bobcat mile relay team bested their season's previous best by almost 7 seconds. The team turned in a time of 3:36.7.

In the junior high division John Spraggins set a Scrapper's Relay record in the 440-yard dash, winning in a time of 53.7.

The next meet for the locals is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, with the Hope team's hosting a meet at the Hope track.

Two Russellville legislators, L. L. (Doc) Bryan and Jim Harrell, returned to Russellville recently when the General Assembly recessed.

The two state representatives were welcomed back by a local civic club.

Bryan was presented a flashlight and Harrell a whistle.

Bryan is supposed to use the flashlight when daylight savings time goes into effect. Bryan made an eloquent plea during the legislative session in an attempt to keep the state on standard time. He contended school children would be waiting in the dark for school buses if the state went on daylight savings.

Harrell's gift was in reference to a statement he made on the bill which would have legalized casino gambling in four private clubs at Hot Springs.

He said he was "caught up on the cowcatcher of this rapidly moving train of gambling problem solution and was tossed into the eye column before I could see where the tracks were leading."

Harrell's whistle was described as "one he can toot to slow the train with that cow catcher on it."

A group of Arkansans visited Florida last week as representatives of the state.

Florida is in the unusual situation of not having a legislature due to a U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

A Floridian asked what Arkansans would do if it suddenly found itself without a legislature.

"We'd leave it that way," was the answer.

The owner of C. T. King Hardware Co. in Conway is convinced his advertising is reaching the people. He advertises he'll rent anything in the store.

A customer, identified as Evelyn Strayhorn, entered the store recently.

"I believe you say you rent anything?"

"Yes, sir," answered King.

"Then I want to rent some tomato seed," Strayhorn said.

King told Strayhorn he could rent 10 cents worth of tomato seeds for 15 cents.

That satisfied Strayhorn.

One man asked another if he fished with flies during his vacation?

"Man, we fished, ate, slept, danced, boated, camped, drank and swam with them."

Fair Trade Laws Cheat People

State Sen. John Wilder of Somerville has called for passage of a bill repealing the state's "fair trade" liquor law. The public interest runs counter to any kind of price fixing which guarantees a profit to some industry, and if the legislature finds itself in a repealing mood, it should not only get rid of the "fair trade" liquor law but the "fair trade" milk law as well.

Senator Wilder points out that the liquor industry not only is guaranteed a profit on its commodity, but also on the taxes on its commodity. Thus the $1 a gallon increase in the tax on liquor which has been proposed will further increase the profit of the retailer under the "fair trade" law. Fair trade laws kill competition and hurt the free enterprise system. Of all business interests that don't deserve an insured profit it is the liquor industry. With all the controversy that surrounds this business it would seem that those who are in it would do all they can to promote a public image that coincides with the public interest.

And if ever there was a business which should be required to participate in price competition, it is the milk industry. Milk is a basic food necessity for children - at home and in school. It is unthinkable that there would be a law which assured those who sell milk a set percentage of profit and which would prohibit a grocer from selling milk cheaper, if he desired to do so. Where fair trade laws are on the books it is clear that lobbyists for an industry have been at work in behalf of special private interests and against the public interest. - Nashville (Tenn.) Tennessean

Efficiency Vs. Patronage

What is the matter with that Californiak fellow? He is in the United States House of Representatives less than two months, and what does he complain about? The patronage he is expected to dispense in the postal service, that's what.

He thinks it is silly for a member of Congress to be appointing postmasters and rural mail carriers. "Our Post Office Department is big business, and we owe it to ourselves to demand that it be run with the same efficiency we expect in modern industry and commerce," he says. And one way to increase efficiency would be to have postal jobs filled strictly by civil service examinations.

That is almost like a member of Congress insisting that the Corps of Engineers stop building dams in his own district or insisting that the Defense Department close an ammunition depot in his hometown. Or so the orthodoxy of Washington would have it.

But it is probable, as Rep. Californiak argues, that the patronage value congressmen derive from such appointments is negligible. And it is all but certain that the postmasters on the scene could do a better job of hiring than a congressman could from Washington. The cry for postal efficiency is almost unanimous up and down the line Rep. Californiak has reminded us again of a good place to start. - Winston-Salem (N.C.) Twin City Sentinel

WORLD'S LARGEST POTATO FARM is taking shape on a once-barren desert plateau in east-central Oregon. Huge irrigation pumps and 35 miles of underground steel pipe with diameters of from six to 48 inches are being installed to lift up water from the Snake and Malheur rivers 400 to 600 feet to make the 9,000-acre site bloom. At left, welders assemble sections of 32-inch pipe. Above, more pipe awaits installation at the top, from where the view is spectacular. The development, by a subsidiary of the H. J. Heinz Co., is expected to yield a harvest of more than one billion potatoes next fall.

Early Services in Spite of Bad Weather

NEW YORK (AP) — The earliest Easter in 16 years Sunday and wintry weather in many parts of the country apparently haven't dampened plans for traditional sunrise religious services and displays of finery in the Easter parade.

While preparations were being made for the services and parades, Pope Paul VI led Roman Catholics in the annual Good Friday observance today of Christ's Crucifixion.

Thursday night in Rome, the Pope washed the feet of 12 boys, emulating in a Holy Thursday Mass at the Basilica of St. John Lateran the action of Christ at the Last Supper.

Good Friday is not a legal holiday, but still many business offices across the country were closed today, including the stock and principal commodity exchanges in New York.

Banks, retail businesses and department stores were generally open for Easter shoppers.

In an extended five-day forecast which covers Easter Sunday, the Weather Bureau said temperatures would average below normal in the West, Southwest and along the Eastern Seaboard. The forecast called for rain over most of the nation except in the far Southwest. No snow was forecast anywhere.

An Associated Press survey showed retail sales of spring clothes, down two to five per cent in the snowy Northeast and Midwest, but up as much as 25 per cent in Richmond, Va., and about five per cent nationally.

New York's Easter parade up Fifth Avenue is expected to be as gaudy as ever.

Many will join the parade after attending sunrise services at Radio City Music Hall where such observances have been held every year since the building opened 34 years ago.

Washington will have its traditional sunrise services, and the egg rolling on the White House lawn Monday.

There Are Many Things That a Fat Man on Diet Gets Tired of Hearing

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a fat man on a diet gets tired of hearing:

"Hello, Tubby."

"What's that you've got under your vest — a watermelon or a pillow?"

"You say you've already lost 12 pounds? It sure doesn't show. Maybe you're just kidding yourself."

"Isn't that funny? I can drink like a fish and eat like a horse, and my weight doesn't vary a pound, winter or summer."

"What you have to do is to watch every calorie."

"I don't think calories have a darn thing to do with it. In my opinion it's all mental. What you have to do is think yourself thin — and, son, you will be."

"Have you tried the salt pork and marmalade diet? It worked wonders for me."

"All it takes is a little will power."

"They say some people overeat in an attempt to camouflage a hidden antagonism. It could be a sibling rivalry. Did you hate your brother or sister when

Johnson Gets the FDR Award

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson has been given the first annual Franklin D. Roosevelt Birthday Memorial Award "for keeping alight in word and deed the ideals and spirit" of the late president.

Johnson was not at the dinner in the New York Hilton Thursday night to accept the award, a metal bust of Roosevelt given by the National Foundation March of Dimes.

Ambassador at Large W. Averell Harriman accepted the award for the President, saying: "Lyndon Johnson not only exemplifies the ideals of Franklin Roosevelt, he augments and fulfills them."

State Capitol Remodeling Contract Soon

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Secretary of State Kelly Bryant announced today that the state would let a $350,000 contract soon for remodeling the Capitol basement and would take over the Capitol Hill Apartments April 1.

Bryant also announced that former state Purchasing Agent Mac Sturgis would be employed by the secretary of state's office as co-ordinator of both projects. Bryant said the job, which pays $6,000 a year, would be permanent.

Bryant said the remodeling of the Capitol basement would add about 17,000 square feet of prime office space. He said the basement, first and second floors of the Capitol Hill Apartments would be remodeled with appropriations totaling $125,000 in the next two years, adding 9,000 square feet of state office space.

The upper five floors of the apartment building will be rented as living quarters. Rent on the approximately 40 apartments will be $95 to $135 a month, Bryant said.

The Capitol Hill Apartments were brought as part of the Capitol Expansion Area project.

Service Is Held for the Tunnel Rats

By JOHN T. WHEELER
WITH 25TH DIVISION, Vietnam (AP) — They held the service two days late in the strangest chapel you could find in Vietnam. Then, the prayers finished, more than a ton of dynamite blasted the room to bits.

The service was held by Chaplain (Capt.) Tucker for the "tunnel rats" of his battalion who had spent a week crawling around through a vast Viet Cong underground tunnel complex 30 miles west of Saigon.

The eerie job of "running" the tunnels falls to the slight in build who can maneuver through the underground labyrinth that the Communists leave booby-trapped when forced out by advancing American troops. The job is vastly complicated by nature. Big black ants charge the flashlight-toting tunnel rats. Swarms of smaller ants can cover the tunnel's walls, ceiling and floor for hundreds of feet.

Chaplain Tucker, of Monticello, Ark., said, "Somehow it seemed fitting to hold a service close to the men who have such a terrible job. We couldn't do it on Sunday because the men were too spread out and too deep in the complex. But we made it on Tuesday."

The six men from the 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry huddled in one of the main rooms as Chaplain Tucker crawled in. His steel helmet with a black cross linked on the front of the camouflage cover was the altar. A New Testament was carried in the helmet's elastic band, normally used to hold helmets and small branches for camouflage.

"Just as Christ went into a cave to fulfill his destiny, you men are in the tunnels and caves of Vietnam fulfilling your destiny," the chaplain said.

The service was for two Roman Catholics and four Protestants. Chaplain Tucker read St. Luke's description of the aftermath of the Crucifixion. "And he took it down and wrapped it in linen and laid it down in a sepulcher that was hewn in stone wherein never man before laid."

Flashlights dimly lit the chamber as the chaplain knelt before his helmet altar.

After the service, the chaplain and the six men crawled to the surface. The job of checking the tunnels for Viet Cong weapons and documents was over. The tunnel rats began dragging charges into the complex for the final act, a chain of heavy explosions that destroyed the underground Communist camp.

Spec. 4 William Lowry of Greenville, Mich., said, "They've held services all over the place for GIs, but I've never heard of it being done for us tunnel rats. It was a nice thing to know the chaplain would crawl underground into a place like that to be with us."

Pfc. Donald Ellis of Eminence, Ky., wryly admitted later that it was the first time in his Army career that he had ever blasted a chapel.

Syrian Officer Escapes to Cairo

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Another Syrian officer has escaped to Cairo from Jordan with what he said were details of a CIA plot to overthrow the Baathist regime in Syria, the semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram reported today.

One Killed in Wreck Near Hope

Genoa Hopson, 51, Negro resident of Hope Rt. 4, was killed late last night in a two-car collision on Highway 67 about six miles east of Hope.

Injured was her husband, Louie Hopson and two other occupants of the car. Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Leroy Lewis, 715 N. Hampton Road, occupants of the second car, were injured, neither critical. Mrs. Lewis suffered a fractured pelvis, bruises and cuts. Other occupants of both cars sustained only cuts and bruises.

State police said the collision appeared to be head-on. The investigation continues.

Hanoi Tones Down Reports of Casualties

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Intercepted military messages indicate Communist battlefield commanders are holding back or toning down reports to Hanoi about their Vietnam war casualties, U.S. officials report.

Captured documents discussed by Gen. William C. Westmoreland at this week's Guam conference were said to show the Viet Cong deliberately understate their battle losses while exaggerating American casualties 20 to 40 times.

American figures reflect 60 per cent higher enemy casualties this year compared with 1966.

Officials said this masking of the true situation by Communist fighters in the field may be one reason the North Vietnamese leadership presses the war despite increasing allied power.

These officials, who refused to be publicly named, said that until Hanoi's will is broken by military pressure, the conflict could drag on indefinitely.

Officials refused to say the war will be intensified to force the enemy to negotiate a peace, but disclosed American B52s will be moved to Thailand in April to be nearer Communist targets in Vietnam.

This shift of some of the big jets from Guam, where strikes now originate, will cut the B52s' base to target time from six hours to two.

It will mean more B52 bombing missions can be conducted in a 24-hour period against enemy infiltration routes through Laos as well as troop concentrations and supply stores in South Vietnam.

The planned year-end U.S. manpower goal remains unchanged, officials said. Sources report that plans are to have 470,000 men in South Vietnam by the end of December, up some 50,000 from current levels.

Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, was said to believe the 470,000 will be adequate to meet priority objectives of striking at Communist base camps and pressing the so-called pacification program.

This is illustrated by the increased tempo of actions in recent weeks, including heavier enemy assaults on U.S. bases at Da Nang and elsewhere, and greater use of mortars and recoilless rifles, officials said.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have tripled their mortar fire over last year.

Love, Spring and Easter Convoy Shot Is a Happy Combination That Is Inspirational

By MARY ANITA LASETAR
Star Feature Writer

What gives a poet inspiration? There are a number of things, but most often Love and Spring head the list. Easter is a happy combination of Love and Spring, so it is understandable why Hazel Watkins Underwood penned these lines.

Easter

Look unto Christ on Easter morn
Upon whose shoulders we were borne,
Through every dark and cloudy place
Our sins He loves just to erase.

Give others of your inner soul,
To spur them on to reach the goal.
Never falter, fail nor fear;
Keep cheerful on your way down here.

Be kind, considerate, Christlike, too,
Let all your friends depend on you.
Because you came this path today,
You "dropped some flowers on the way."

You shared some poor unfortunate's load,
You helped to brighten someone's road.
You kept a prayer for Easter morn,
Because your Christ was, then, re-born.

On Easter when most people dress
So gay with love and happiness
We look above with mortal pride
And walk and pray by His dear side.

Today, on Easter here below
We worship, sing and pray, just so
Our lives may radiate of peace
And mortal sins forever cease.

Speaker of House Asks Cooperation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock, speaker of the Arkansas House, asked Thursday for House members' support in bringing administration and appropriation bills to a vote during the extended session of the legislature.

The legislature reconvenes at noon Monday and Cockrill said the administration and appropriation bills will have priority.

Cockrill, in a letter to the representatives, said 175 bills await action, and said he hoped the legislature would complete its work in five days and adjourn sine die.

Cockrill had the House staff compile a list of the pending bills, which included 87 appropriations bills, 19 administration bills and 69 others that House members had asked to bring to a vote before the session recessed March 10.

Nearly half of the bills originated in the Senate and are awaiting House action before being sent to the governor's office. More bills are expected to come from the Senate next week and possibly some new introductions.

In the letter, Cockrill reminded the representatives that under a rule already adopted it will take a motion by two-thirds of the members to consider any bill in the extended session.

Bills awaiting action by the Senate total about the same as in the House, but there are some duplications in the two houses.

Legislators will receive $20 per diem for each day they attend.

Content With

His Groceries

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — John Goodwin was content with his $3.74 bundle of groceries so of course he turned down a $2,000 surprise package.

Goodwin, 54, had purchased $3.74 worth of groceries Thursday night from a neighborhood grocery store whose owner, Joseph Auger, inadvertently slipped the day's receipts into Goodwin's sack.

Goodwin discovered the $2,000 when he reached home, and trotted back to the store where he found Auger discussing the unexplained loss with police.

Goodwin said he had not even counted the full amount of cash.

UN to Inspect Six Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. special committee on colonialism has decided that six British Caribbean territories granted associated statehood are not actually independent and suggested that a U.N. mission visit them.

Antigua, Dominica, Grenada, St. Lucia and St. Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla are already associated states and St. Vincent will become one by June. Each is self-governing but leaves its defense and foreign relations to Britain.

Swimming Beaches Are Deleted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers, acting on the advice of the state Health Department, has deleted swimming beaches from the public use areas they are planning to build on the Arkansas River.

Glenn T. Kellogg, chief sanitary engineer for the Department, said the water in the river did not meet the minimum standards for swimming because of the high bacteria count.

"Let's face facts," Kellogg said, "For years the Arkansas River has been an open sewer across our state. You just don't change open sewers overnight."

The Engineers said the beaches will be added later if the quality of the water improves. The Engineers are planning to develop 48 public areas on the Arkansas River in Arkansas. The areas will include picnicking and camping facilities, restrooms and a place to launch boats.

Waitress Gets Big Reward

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Jennie Bauman, a waitress who flawlessly serves up food with a smile, will return to her native Finland for a three-month stay with the biggest tip she's gotten yet.

J.H. Bacon gave Mrs. Bauman a $1,067 airplane ticket and $1,000 spending money and explained Thursday: "I'm giving Jennie this trip first class all the way because she is a first-class waitress and the finest waitress I've ever had."

She has waited on Bacon, a bachelor clerk of court, for 15 years at a cafe.

Mrs. Bauman, 58, has several brothers and a sister in Helsinki. She'll leave June 15.

Marines Die

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces in the northern sector of South Vietnam shot up a 121-truck convoy Friday. In skirmishes and mortar attacks, the Reds killed 24 U.S. Marines and wounded 140 more.

The Communists ambushed the big South Vietnamese army convoy near Da Nang, leaving heavy South Vietnamese casualties and 57 trucks wrecked.

In the same battle zone Communists mines twice hit a U.S. marine convoy, leaving three trucks burned and abandoned, three Leathernecks dead and 10 wounded.

The ground fighting swirled around 514-foot Con Thien Mountain just south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam. The rugged area is developing into a major trouble spot between the Marines and North Vietnamese regulars filtering down from the Much of the ground action listed in Saturday's communiqué took place in Quang Tri Province which borders the Zone.

The Communists are believed to have about 35,000 men in Quang Tri, the demilitarized zone and just to the north of it.

The military spokesman said battles over the previous 48 hours in Quang Tri killed 146 communist soldiers.

The South Vietnamese convoy which was ambushed had delivered an army battalion at Quang Ngai City and was returning empty to Da Nang along coastal highway No. 1 — South Vietnam's main national highway.

Details of the ambush were sketchy, but a spokesman said the lead trucks were evidently stopped by mines and the Reds then opened up with machine-gun fire and grenades.

There was a military escort unit accompanying the convoy.

Congress Out for Easter, Could Stay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 90th Congress, departing today for its Easter recess and due back April 3, could stay away longer without being missed. It didn't do much, although that's par for the course at this time of year.

Even when it returns it won't come close to matching the fabulous record of the 89th Congress of 1965-66. This is a much more negative, carping kind of Congress, more bent on cutting costs than launching big, new programs.

But the 89th, elected in 1964, also dawdled in its first few months in 1965. It was in the months after returning from Easter vacation that the 89th set a production record for Congresses in this century.

President Johnson had a lot easier time getting what he wanted from the 89th where, thanks to the 1964 elections, his Democrats had overwhelming control of both houses.

Nevertheless, the voters weren't satisfied with the 89th's performance and in the 1966 elections gave the Republicans 48 Democratic seats in the House and three in the Senate.

After its first year, even the 89th calmed down. In their 1966 session the House and Senate acted as if they had done enough and given the executive branch enough new programs to handle for years.

That mood seems to prevail in this Congress although the energetic Johnson has dumped a wagon-load of proposals on it.

So far it has done little except to make headlines with the financial dealings of two of its members: Adam Clayton Powell, a New York Negro Democrat, and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.

The House threw out Powell and the Senate Ethics Committee, whose report isn't in yet, exposed for all to see how Dodd got money from testimonial dinners and used it for his own private needs.
